

Do Justice

Brainstorm examples from the gospels of Jesus Christ working to build a united core and uphold key values. Then, brainstorm examples of him expressing a heart to bring in the outsider.

When have you seen a healthy emphasis on “core-building” bring life to a community? When have you seen “core-building” go to an unhealthy extreme?

When have you seen a healthy emphasis on “inclusion” bring life to a community? When have you seen “inclusion” go to an unhealthy extreme?

In the upcoming weeks, we’ll take a closer look at the difference between a healthy inclusion and a destructive inclusion and try to clarify the difference between the two. But in preparation, discuss what you think are key indicators that a culture is passing from one to the other. That is, what are some signs that an over-emphasis on inclusion is becoming destructive?
